Status

Statutory

SEND Code of Practice

This policy is written in line with the requirements of:
- Part 3 of the Children and Families Act 2014.
- SEND Code of Practice 2014.
- The Equality Act 2010
- The Special Educational Needs and Disability Regulations 2014
- The Special Educational Needs (Personal Budgets and direct payments regulations) Clause 49; 2014.
- The SEND Information report regulations 2014.
- Teachers standards 2012

Definition of Special Educational Needs (SEND) as taken from section 20 of the Children and Families Act 2014.

Definitions of special educational needs (SEND) taken from section 20 of the Children and Families Act 2014.

A child or you person has SEND if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for them. A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if they:

a) have a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age; or

b) have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of educational facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions.

A child under compulsory school age has special educational needs if they fall within the definition at (a) or (b) above or would do so if special educational provision was not made for them.

Children must not be regarded as having a learning difficulty solely because the language or form of language of their home is different from the language in which they will be taught.

Purpose

At St Mary and St Peter Catholic Primary School, we believe that each child has individual and unique needs. We acknowledge that a significant proportion of children will have special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) at some time in their school career. Many of these children may require help throughout their time in school, while others may need a little extra support for a short period to help them overcome more temporary needs. If these children are to achieve their full potential, we must recognize this and plan accordingly. We aim to provide all children with strategies for dealing with their needs in a supportive environment, and to give them meaningful access to the National Curriculum. In particular, we aim to:

- enable every child to experience success
- promote individual confidence and a positive attitude
- ensure that all children, whatever their special educational needs or disabilities, receive appropriate educational provision through a broad and balanced curriculum that is relevant and differentiated, and that demonstrates coherence and progression in learning
- give children with SEND equal opportunities to take part in all aspects of the school's provision, as far as is appropriate
- ensure that children with SEND have opportunities to receive and make known information, to express an opinion, and have that opinion considered in any matters affecting them
- identify, assess, record and regularly review children's progress and needs
- involve parents/carers in planning and supporting at all stages of their children's development
- work collaboratively with parents/carers, other professionals and support services
- ensure that the responsibility held by all staff and governors for SEND is implemented and maintained.

Relationship to other policies

This policy should be read in conjunction with the SEND Information Report (which is available on the school website) and the policies on teaching and learning, the school curriculum, equality, assessment and behaviour. The accessibility plan is an integral part of this policy.

Who was consulted?

We consulted local authority and national guidance.

Admission and Integration Arrangements

At St Mary and St Peter Primary, we welcome children with special educational needs and disabilities. All children in our school have full and equal access to every facet of school life.

Children with special educational needs and disabilities are assisted and supported by experienced and skilled teaching and non-teaching staff. This provision is regularly monitored and reviewed by the Headteacher and Governors.

We work in close partnership with children's families and all relevant professionals / agencies, both before a child joins our community and all the time that the child is with us.

We have joint consultation meetings which the SENDCOs of local secondary schools that pupils with SEND are transitioning to.

Allocation of Resources

Prime responsibility for supporting children with SEND is with the Executive Head and Head of School. Within the school's allocated budget, there is an element of notional funding that is determined by SEND factors. This allocation is not pupil specific and forms part of the overall budget.

Top up funding (Element 3) for children who require additional support is determined by Norfolk County Council. Applications can be made to the local authority for funding to meet the needs of children with an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP) or on SEND Support who require more detailed and specific provision. All of these requests are considered but funding is not guaranteed. The local authority continually reviews all provision supported by Top-up funding to ensure it is effective in improving outcomes for children.

Identification, Assessment and Provision

Even with the best teaching, some children continue to experience difficulties. These concerns may be raised by the class teacher, a member of support staff or by you as a parent.

There is a lack of progress despite carefully tailored teaching and support as above;
Attainment levels are significantly below expected levels and those of peers.
We define lack of progress as that which:

- is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline;
- fails to match or better the child's previous rate of progress;
- fails to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers

Slow progress and low attainment do not necessarily mean that a child has SEND and does not automatically lead to a pupil being recorded as having SEND. However, it may be an indicator of a range of learning difficulties or disabilities. Equally, it is not assumed that attainment in line with chronological age means that there is no learning difficulty or disability. For example, some children and young people may be high achieving academically, but may require additional support in communicating and interacting socially. Some learning difficulties and disabilities occur across the range of cognitive ability and, if left unaddressed, may lead to frustration, which may manifest itself as disengagement, emotional or behavioural difficulties.

The purpose of identifying a special educational need is to work out what we need to do next, and not to fit a child into a category. However, we would broadly consider SEND in 4 categories:

- Communication and Interaction;
- Cognition and Learning;

- Social, Emotional and Mental Health difficulties;
- Sensory and/or Physical needs.

A Graduated Approach

Where it is determined that a pupil does have SEND, parents will be advised of this and the child will be added to the SEND register. The aim of formally identifying a pupil with SEND is to help school ensure that effective provision is put in place and, in doing so, removes barriers to learning. The support provided consists of a four-part process:

- Assess
- Plan
- Do
- Review

This is an ongoing cycle to enable the provision to be refined and revised as the understanding of the needs of the pupil grows. This cycle enables the identification of those interventions which are the most effective in supporting the pupil to achieve good progress and outcomes.

Assess

This involves clearly analyzing the pupil's needs using the class teacher's assessment and experience of working with the pupil, details of previous progress and attainment, comparisons with peers and national data, as well as the views and experience of parents. The pupil's views and where relevant, advice from external support services will also be considered. Any parental concerns will be noted and compared with the school's information and assessment data on how the pupil is progressing.

This analysis will require regular review to ensure that support and intervention is matched to need, that barriers to learning are clearly identified and being overcome and that the interventions being used are developing and evolving as required. Where external support staff are already involved their work will help inform the assessment of need. Where they are not involved they may be contacted, if this is felt to be appropriate, following discussion and agreement from parents.

Plan

Planning will involve consultation between the teacher, SENCO and parents to agree the adjustments, interventions and support that are required; the impact on progress, development and or behaviour that is expected and a clear date for review. Parental involvement may be sought, where appropriate, to reinforce or contribute to progress at home.

All those working with the pupil will be informed of their individual needs, the support that is being provided, any particular teaching strategies/approaches that are being employed and the outcomes that are being sought.

Do

The class teacher remains responsible for working with the child on a day-to-day basis. They will retain responsibility even where the interventions may involve group or one-to-one teaching away from the main class teacher. They will work closely with teaching assistants and to plan and assess the impact of support and interventions and links with classroom teaching. Support with further assessment of the pupil's strengths and weaknesses, problem solving and advising of the implementation of effective support will be provided by the SENCO.

Review

Reviews of a child's progress will be made termly. The review process will evaluate the impact and quality of the support and interventions. It will also take account of the views of the pupil and where necessary their parents. The class teacher, in conjunction with the SENCO, will revise the support and outcomes based on the pupil's progress and development making any necessary amendments going forward, in consultation with parents and the pupil.

Referral for an Education, Health and Care Plan

If a child has lifelong or significant difficulties they may undergo a Statutory Needs Assessment Process, which is usually requested by the school but can be requested by a parent. This will occur where the complexity of need or a lack of clarity around the needs of the child are such that a multi-agency approach to assessing that need, planning provision and identifying resources is required.

The decision to make a request for an Education, Health and Care Needs Assessment will usually routinely be taken at a progress review or via a meeting with the SENCO; parents may also request an assessment directly from the local authority.
The application for an Education, Health and Care Plan will combine information from a variety of sources including:

- Parents
- Child (if appropriate)
- Teachers
- SENCO
- Social Care
- Health professionals

Information will be gathered relating to the current provision provided, action points that have been taken, and the preliminary outcomes of targets set. A decision will be made by a panel of people from education, health and social care about whether or not the child is eligible for an EHC Plan. Parents have the right to appeal against a decision not to initiate a statutory assessment leading to an EHC Plan.

Further information about EHC Plans can found via the Norfolk SEND Local Offer website: www.norfolk.gov.uk/SEND or by contacting Norfolk SENDIASS on: 01603 704070 or norfolksendiass.org.uk

Education, Health and Care Plans [EHC Plan]

a. Following Statutory Assessment, an EHC Plan will be provided by Norfolk County Council, if it is decided that the child's needs are not being met by the support that is ordinarily available. The school and the child's parents will be involved developing and producing the plan.
b. Parents have the right to appeal against the content of the EHC Plan. They may also appeal against the school named in the Plan if it differs from their preferred choice.
c. Once the EHC Plan has been completed and agreed, it will be kept as part of the pupil's formal record and reviewed at least annually by staff, parents and the pupil. The annual review enables provision for the pupil to be evaluated and, where appropriate, for changes to be put in place, for example, reducing or increasing levels of support.

The Nature of Intervention

The class teacher should
- consult parents
- develop a Learning Support Plan (LSP) which will target identified area/s to be developed and the action that will be taken to achieve the targets
- keep a record of intervention

The SENCO and the child's class teacher will decide on the action needed to help the child to progress in the light of their earlier assessment. This may include
- different learning materials or special equipment
- some group or individual support to devise the nature of planned intervention and to monitor its effectiveness
- staff development and training to introduce more effective strategies
- access to the local authority support services for one-off or occasional advice on strategies or equipment

Targets will be reviewed and new targets identified on a termly basis.

Annual review of an Education Health and Care Plan

All EHCPs will be reviewed at least annually. The parents, child, local authority, school and other professionals involved are invited to consider whether any amendments need to be made to the EHCP. The review will focus on what the child has achieved as well as any difficulties that need to be resolved and future actions. The SENCO can call an Emergency/Interim Review ahead of an Annual Review if the need arises. A Transfer Review is usually held ahead of a child moving to the next phase of education.

Inclusion and access to the curriculum

The achievements, attitudes and well-being of every person in the school matters. This is made evident in our ethos and values. Primarily we have a clear focus on high quality teaching by all teachers who see themselves as teachers of pupils with SEND. Our inclusive approach means all staff instinctively attempt to overcome children's barriers to learning. We regard pupils equally in relation to their individual needs. As a staff, we constantly consider teaching style, environment, rules and expectations of behaviour to ensure that every child is feeling confident happy and secure. We have provided training for staff on pedagogy and practice in order to improve their understanding of which teaching and learning approaches are most effective for individuals and groups of children and young people who have SEND.

Arrangements for monitoring and evaluation

The success of the school's SEND policy and provision is evaluated through school self-evaluation and reporting activities such as:

- monitoring of classroom practice by the SENCO and subject leaders
- analysis of tracking data and assessment for individual children and for cohorts
- value-added progress data for children on the SEND register
- analysis of exclusions data
- monitoring of procedures and practice by the SEND governor
- the school profile and the brochure, which contains the required information about the implementation and success of the SEND policy
- the school's annual review of provision for children with SEND and Looked After Children
- the school improvement plan, which is used for planning and monitoring provision in the school
- visits from local authority personnel, the Trust SEND Lead and Ofsted inspection arrangements
- feedback from children, parents and staff, both formal and informal

Arrangements for complaints

Should children or parents/carers be unhappy with any aspect of provision they should discuss the problem with the class teacher in the first instance. Anyone who feels unable to talk to the teacher, or is not satisfied with the teacher's comments, should ask to speak to the SENCO, Head of School or Executive Head. For a problem that might need time to be explored, parents/carers should make an appointment.

In the event of a formal complaint, parents/carers are advised to contact the head teacher.

Arrangements for Continuous Professional Development

We aim to keep all school staff up to date with relevant training and developments in teaching practice in relation to the needs of pupils with SEND.
The SENCO attends relevant SEND courses and facilitates/signposts relevant SEND focused external training opportunities for all staff.
We recognise the need to train all our staff on SEND issues and this is monitored and included as part of CPD in school.

Partnership with Parents

We operate an 'open-door' policy at our school and welcome parental involvement in all aspects of school life. Fortnightly newsletters are sent out to parents to keep them informed of news, events, meeting etc.
There are two parents' evenings, one in the Autumn Term and one in the Spring Term when parents can meet with their child's teacher to discuss the child's progress. Parents are also invited to arrange meetings with their child's teacher at other times should they have any concerns or worries. A written report is sent out to all parents annually during the Summer Term. Parents are given the opportunity to discuss their child's progress with the class teacher at any point in the year and there are regular opportunities for parents to attend events within school, such as mass, share sessions and open events.
In addition, we have a SEND Parent's Evening Week each term where parents of pupils with SEND have their child's review and new plan shared with them. Parents of children with special educational needs and disabilities are involved and consulted throughout the different stages of the SEND procedures and are invited to annual reviews and other meetings. Their opinions/advice are always welcomed and valued at every stage.

Listening to Children

As a Catholic school, with a strong Christian ethos, we actively support and promote a value-based education. Actively promoting and teaching about values promotes an inclusive school ethos and ways of working that raise aspirations and achievements. It helps raise children's self-esteem and encourages them to take more responsibility for their own behaviour and learning. The school rules are revisited at the beginning of the school year and our Junior Leadership Team, which listens to the views of pupils, promotes a democratic process, freedom of speech and group action.

Links with other agencies and voluntary organisations

Each term, the SENCO and other senior leaders, take part in a Teams Around the School (TAS) meeting to discuss any learners that may need additional support or currently have some barriers impacting their learning. During these sessions, advice is sought from specialist teams around the county. We also have access to services universally provided by Norfolk's Local Offer (www.norfolk.gov.uk/children-and-families/send-local-offer).

Links with other schools and provision for transition

The school works in partnership with the other schools in the Trust. This enables the schools to build a bank of joint resources and to share advice, training and development activities and expertise.
There will be close liaison with transfer schools in order to aid transition to the child's next school. For those children in Year Six with an EHCP, the SENCO of the transition school will be invited to attend the EHCP Review Meeting, to allow the receiving school to plan an appropriate LSP to start at the beginning of the new school year and enable the child and parents to be reassured that an effective and supportive transfer will occur.
